Dear Margareta,

I wanted to say thank you for a terrific conference. It was an excellent collection of speakers as well as participants. Your terrific leadership shone through during the entire meeting.

You should be immensely proud of what you accomplished this past week. I do know that it took more than a year to plan this kind of meeting. The intense planning and hard work really showed.

I have spoken to literally over a dozen of the participants in the last several hours, and to a person everyone has been incredibly impressed.

Once again thank you for a wonderful conference and I look forward to seeing you at the second international conference if not before.

All my personal best,

Richard
